Dear Chairman Alexander and Ranking Member Murray:

On behalf of the nation's governors, we appreciate Congress's focus on lowering health care costs and prescription drug prices. We write in response to your request for recommendations from governors on actions that Congress and the Administration can take to assist in these efforts.

Over the past several decades, persistent growth in health care costs has placed significant pressure on state budgets. Given projections that they will continue to rise, accounting for 20 percent of gross domestic product by 2025, governors are focused on achieving value, pursuing strategies that lead to better health for their residents and reducing costs. Governors have been at the forefront of health care innovation that seeks to improve health outcomes, while reducing the financial burden on families, businesses, and government. But partnership with and action by Congress and the Administration is critical to fully realizing a path to a more sustainable health system.

We urge Congress to take into serious consideration these bipartisan recommendations that will build a more efficient health care system that will improve the health of our nation and look forward to working with you in the coming weeks and months to advance bills into law that align with these recommendations.

Sincerely,
